General of British Honduras Wants to Extradite Him for Violation of the Neutrality Laws Probably Safe in Guatemala Big Boost for Estrada.

NEW OBLEANS, Aug. 15.-Passengers arriving from Puerto Barrios report interviewing there Gen. Manuel Bonilla. who was leading the Honduran revolution against Davila; Gen. Lee Christmas. the American adventurer who is second in command; eighteen officers and tiftyone privates who fled to Guatemala to escape capture by the Honduran troops. The filibuaters were sent by rail to Guatemala city, where they will be detained temporarily. It was frankly confessed that the Bonilla revolution had been a tailure through a succession of acci-

The plans of the filibustering expedition were upset by the British man-o'war which was cruising through Honduran waters looking for the filibusters for violating the neutrality laws. This 323,904 compelled the seven vessels, mainly schooners, constituting the fleet to keep on sailing. Christmas occupied Uletta as a base of operations. The vessels with the rest of the men made for Puerto Cortee with the intention of capturing that town, but a premature uprising there alarmed the Government. The only Honduran war vessel, the Tatumbla, is practically helpless and unable to move. but she succeeded in putting a shot through the Emma, the flagship schooner of the Bonilla fleet.

In a very disorganized condition some of the filibusters, including Bonilla, landed near the Guatemaian frontier, but some of the men escaped on the vessels and their whereabouts is not known. When the Honduran army marched on them they retreated into Guatemalan territory. The arms and ammunition of the expedition were turned over to Estrada in Nicaragua to assist him in the war against Madriz.

The filibusters were warmly welcomed

The filibusters were warmly welcomed by the Guatemalans, and it is not thought that they will be jailed. Cabrera has generally been thought in sympathy with Bonilla, and it is reported that he once offered to fit up an expedition for him to recover the Presidency of Honduras. It is reported here that the present unsuccessful expedition was financed by one of the fruit companies dealing with Central America, which expected to get Central America, which expected to get land concessions in return. The expedition, it was almost universally believed, would be successful, it was so well equipped, but a succession of accidents and treachery saved Davila.

It is admitted that all hope of a revolution in Honduras is not gone. It is understood that the British officials of Belize will ask the extradition of Bonilla, who has been living in Belize for some years for organizing a filibustering expedition against a friendly neighboring State. Gov. Swayne of British Honduras is determined to prosecute Bonilla for violat-

When Gov. MEMPHIS, Tenn. Aug. 15—Credited but unofficial reports from Illinois Central sources say that the car repair grafting will be overshadowed by the recently discovered crookedness in grading and construction charges. The officials implicated in the new discoveries are, it is alleged, those already named in the thefts already made public.

The scheme by which the Illinois Central was muleted of a million dollars on grading contracts was simple. When a contract was advertised the number of cubic tyards to be moved as stated in the air.

THE DEATH OF MARY HAMMEL. THE TARIFF AND THE TRUSTS

nate Democrats Return a Strictly Partisan Explanation of What Made Prices Go Up-Majority Remarks Are Dissected to Show Them Fallaciou

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 .- The tariff, the trusts and the increased money supply an increase in the cost of commodities by an automobile two years ago, she and the tariff and the trusts are mainly lost her reason and the final two years of responsible, according to the report of the Democratic members of the Senate select committee appointed to investi gate and report on wages and the coa of living. The report was made public to-day by Senator Joseph F. Johnston of Alabama. The majority report was submitted by Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, before Congress adfourned. The Democratic members were not ready to report at that time.

The minority report is signed by Senators Johnston of Alabama, Clark of Arkansas and Smith of South Carolina. Much of the report is devoted to showing that the adjustment of tariff duties is the principal cause for high prices. The ninority report charges that the Payne-Aldrich law discriminates against the poor consumer in favor of his richer

A special attack is made on the wool and cotton schedule and the duties on steel and sugar come in for a share of attention. The report sets forth thacorn and potatoes has kept pace with the increase in population and that therefore the increased prices of farm products cannot be explained on the ground that there has been an increased demand for these products due to the growth of population.

The committee points out as a significant fact that the United State produced more farm products in 1909 than in 1900, but that the expor-tation was smaller in 1909 than in 1900. The minority invites attention to the fact that according to testimony taken by the committee the wages of farm laborers increased 50 per cent. between 1900 and 1900 and they say that no such increase is shown in any of the wage scales in the protected industries. The minority says that another blunder

The minority says that another blunder was made in the report submitted by Senator Lodge in which the conclusion was reached that "reduced fertility of land, resulting in lower average production or increased expenditures for fertilization," was a factor in determining of farm products. Senator Johnston and his colleagues quote from the statistics of the Department of Agriculture to show that the average production an acre was of the Department of Agriculture to show that the average production an acre was greater in 1998 than in 1900 as to every product entering into ordinary consump-tion, including corn, wheat, oats, rye,

As showing the effect of tariff duties on commodities the committee cites the fact that the tariff on broom corn necessary to make one broom amounts to one-fifth of 1 cent but that since the imposi-tion of the duty by the Payne-Aldrich law the price of a broom has advanced 0 cents The committee shows that the imposition of the duty on sugar has com-pelled the New York consumer to pay the full amount of the duty with 18 centa added on each 100 pounds consumed more than the same amount of sugar would cost in London.

On the other hand the committee shows that on the article of coffee, which is admitted free in the United States and made to pay duty in other leading countries, the American consumer pays less for his coffee than the price at which it is sold in any foreign country where a duty is imposed.

Taking the minimum prices obtaining (for coffee), the American consumer pays 8 cents per pound less than the English (where the tariff is 3 cents a pound), 35, cents less than the German (where the tariff is 4.3 cents a pound), 20 cents less than the French (where the tariff is 11.9 cents minimum and 265, gentaring in 11.9 cents minimum and 265, gentaring in 11.9 cents minimum and 265, gentaring in the first of the cents of the cents

N summer the laborious character of flame-cooking becomes most pronounced.

The smoke, the heat, the bad odor are most in evidence. Electric cooking is best because:

All the heat is applied to the work-no escape to raise the temperature of the kitchen.

The heat is on or off at the turn of a switch. Economy. Results are better; the process is scientifically exact. The application of electricity to cooking covers a wide range of handy devices that are rapidly being placed in every modern home Besides the electric range, the list includes the chafing dish, coffee percolator, tea kettle, toaster, broiler, tea pot, waffle iron, griddle, cereal cooker, water heater, plate heater, food warmer, also the electric dish-
